

God is a Disco Ball?

Since I was very young I have understood the God concept

As all of us together; a many celled organism of the whole world.

Sometime I imagine all of us together as a Godly jewel,

Or a disco ball.

The Quaker understanding of that of God in each person

Is consistent with my earliest imagining of the God concept.

I revel in the complexity of this God concept.

I have learned that many people are afraid of complexity.

It is my hope that one day, even if afraid, that we can

Embrace the complexity of God and know

That we are all in this together.
